Fred Bear Bags Tiger

A cablegram received by Mrs. Fred Bear from her husband revealed that the noted hunter had bagged the Indian tiger he went to stalk. His wife stated, "Fine tiger shot at 70 yards. Greatest hunt ever. Fine pictures. Home in ten days."

After a week spent in Turkey, Mr. Bear and Mr. Halm went on to India where they are at present. They are the guests of the Maharaja of Bunt near New Delhi, but out of touch with communications other than by messenger when the hunt is completed.

Mr. Bear planned to cable home if the hunt was successful.

BAND TRAVELS TO MANCERONA

The Grayling High School Band traveled to Manceron on May 8 for the annual May Festival. The members of the Grayling Band, including majorettes and color guard left on their trip at 10:30 a. m. on Wednesday morning. Arriving in Manceron at 11:30, they had lunch, then reported to the high school for the beginning of a full day's activities. Each of the eight bands represented at the festival performed two numbers—a march and an overture. Our band made quite a hit with our "Bossa Nova." John Johnson highlighted the scene with his "Traveler Overture" which was also performed very well with many favorable comments from the audience.

An afternoon parade was scheduled for the following bands: Grayling, Charlevoix, Petoskey, East Jordan, Elk Rapids and Manicora. Following the parade, the bands traveled back to the Manceron High School for two hours of hard practice. This was the final rehearsal before the mass concert. Those of you who have never before seen this type of concert will enjoy the thrill of joining 300 other students in the "Washington March" or some of the other songs that were played. The director directed two numbers.

In the country in the world except our great nation, can high school bands gather to perform a mass concert for the sole purpose of having fun and having fun. Each number is especially thankful for the opportunity which was theirs on this memorable day.

In 1961, Mr. Kelly left a very successful television sales and service ownership to serve as a director in the newly formed American Indoor Archery Association. The A. I. A. A. was organized to meet the growing needs of the expanding automated indoor lane industry. Kelly and his associates were responsible for creating basic instruction manuals, league organizational details, special new archery games, scoring and handicapping information, guidelines for league secretaries and handicapping calculator charts. In addition, Kelly and his associates served as personal consultants to new range owners to help them get started on the right foot.

The new sales manager has accompanied company president Fred Bear on several of his Alaskan hunting trips and is an avid archer and reputed to be a camp cook par excellence. Kelly has moved to Grayling and will bring his family here from the west coast at the end of the school year and when housing can be arranged.

Robert F. Kelly, formerly of Seattle, Wash., has been named as the new sales manager for the Bear Archery Company of Grayling, it was announced last week by Don L. Koch, general manager of the company.

Mr. Kelly comes to Bear from the West Coast Engineering, where he was employed as a consultant and in public relation work. The company is the largest manufacturer of automatic indoor archery lane equipment.

Camp Grayling 50 Years Old

Frederic Begins Clean-Up Move

The village of Frederic is busy cleaning-up and fixing up. Members of the Fire Department, Boy Scouts and Sportsman's Club have been making a combined effort to improve the looks of the town. Jess Skinner is chairman of the project.

So far one half of the junk cars have been removed from the property between Loomis' Store and the Baptist church, fifty acres of land have been burned off, 32 miles of old fencing and ties has been removed, two water points have been brushed and burned and turn off roads to these points were leveled and graded. These water points will be erected for the protection of everyone.

One water point is located near the AnSable Souvenir Works and one a short distance south of County Road #12. They are 10 feet deep and about eighteen feet in diameter according to Fire Chief Arthur Mayer. They are apparently spring fed. This source of water will augment the supply available at the Fire Hall.

In addition the Sportsman's Club is sponsoring the building of a horseshoe court and skating rink.

Legion Auxiliary Plans Poppy Days

May 23, 24 and 25 are Poppy Days in Grayling. This is the month when American Legion Auxiliary members most everywhere ask their fellow townsmen to join them in gesture of remembrance for those who died in America's defense. The gesture is the wearing of the Memorial Poppy, the little red flower of crepe paper which simulates the wild poppy of Flanders Fields. The Auxiliary also asks for contributions for the aid of disabled veterans and needy children of veterans.

It seems that a light would go out in America if the people ceased to remember and honor their fallen defenders—that much would be lost in the way of patriotic spirit. And, in these days of new danger every source of national strength must be sought, and of these sources the greatest is patriotic spirit.

As the Auxiliary brings the poppy to the people of the community and gives them the opportunity to show their honoring remembrance of America's war dead, it is contributing significantly to the inner strength of the nation which lies deep in American hearts.

It is their hope to place a poppy over every heart on Poppy Day. Please buy your poppy AT HOME.

Retirement Dinner Honors Frank L. Bond

A retirement dinner last Wednesday evening sponsored by the Grayling Teachers' Club honored Frank L. Bond, Grayling High School teacher and former Superintendent of Schools who has announced his retirement at the close of this school year. Mr. Bond has been associated with the Grayling Public Schools for the entire 30 years in the teaching profession.

Bruce Smith was in charge of arrangements for the dinner which was held at the Ausable Ranch and Ski Club. Attending were Grayling Public School teachers and their husbands—wives, school employees and their wives and members of the Grayling School Board and their wives or husbands.

Board secretary William Joseph acted as master of ceremonies and after a few brief remarks introduced Dr. B. E. Henig, board president. Dr. Henig spoke of the fine career in education that the honored guest had fashioned and in general paid tribute to all of the teachers of the system.

Present Superintendent of Schools Joseph Henig was introduced and he spoke of his predecessor's many accomplishments for the school and students over and above what was expected. Miss Margaret Douglas presented Mr. Bond with a card signed by all of the teachers and Mr. Arthur Thayer, president of the Teachers' Club then presented Mr. Bond with a rough sketch of a bronze plaque which will be placed on the wall of the gym in his honor to commemorate the construction of the building and the staff who were involved in its erection.

Mr. Bond replied to the many kind things said about him and thanked everyone who attended the dinner and had offered their good wishes. He will become Crawford County Superintendent of Schools on July 1, 1963.

SEEK FUNDS FOR U. S. COURT CASE

In a letter to Mrs. Minnie Hartley, Crawford County G. O. P. Chairman, State Senator Harold Hughes of the 28th District which includes Crawford County, has asked for donations to carry the case of Scholle Vs. the Secretary of State on through the United States Supreme Court.

Three Michigan State Senators, Younger, Fitzgerald and Beadle received a stay of execution last year in the matter. According to Senator Hughes, his three colleagues hired the best attorneys available and each of the three borrowed $5,000 to fight the case. It would appear that yet another $15,000 might be needed to complete the case's hearing. Therefore the appeal for donations. Donations should be handed to Mrs. Hartley who will forward them to the court fund.

Event Occurs Significantly Next Monday During Michigan Week

Next Monday, May 20 will mark exactly fifty years since the first contingent of Michigan National Guard troops set foot on the ground of the original Camp Grayling. Significantly the event occurs during the 1963 Michigan Week.

Although efforts began as early as 1911, the State of Michigan did not accept the original grant of 12,920 acres until April, 1913. Prior to this time, the Michigan National Guard held their summer training exercises near Grand Haven, Ludington or Holland.

The original acreage of the camp was offered to the state by the late Rasmus Hanson of Grayling in 1911. At that time, the state was considering purchase of some of the land which the Guard had been using for training previously. It would appear that the feeling was that the distance to travel was a contributing factor to indecision in those days.

Early in 1913, the Crawford County Commercial Association, predecessor to the present Crawford County Chamber of Commerce, got into high gear on the project. A committee went to Lansing to push for a bill for the State of Michigan to accept the generous offer of Mr. Hanson.

The bill was introduced into the House of Representatives by State Representative J. Lee Morford whose district included Crawford County. On April 24, 1913, the State Senate passed an amended bill known as the Hanson Military Camp Bill by a 27 to 5 vote. It would appear that State Senators from western Michigan were the objectors. The House then passed the bill with the addition of $30,000 for work at the campsite.

The bill then went to the desk of the late Governor Woodbridge N. Ferris who signed it into law. On May 20, 1913, the first Michigan National Guard troops as a unit set foot onto the land which is now Camp Grayling. There had been inspection units at the site previously but this was the first time that commanded troops bivouacked at the site and served as a unit. The troops were from Calumet in the Upper Peninsula under the command of Captain Jesse D. Meads. They were members of an engineer battalion and were kept busy for several weeks surveying, charting and mapping the original gift of 12,920 acres.

The first summer encampment for the entire force of the Michigan National Guard was not held at the campsite until the summer (Continued on Page 2)

Flint Man Establishes Glass Co. In Grayling

The Grayling Glass Company has opened its doors for business at 402 McClellan Street in Grayling, the proprietor being Douglas Burley. The company will handle glass for store fronts, homes, including insulating glass, mirrors, tub enclosures, etc.

Mr. Burley has moved his wife, Evelyn, and two sons, Jefferson, 4 and Scott, 2, here and the family is living in the Capt. George Scholle home west of the M-72 Avenue bridge west of town. He has had considerable experience in his field, having worked for the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company for five years and the Koort's Glass Company for two years in Flint, which has been his home for twenty-four years.

Mr. Burley is acquainted with Crawford County, having come here to fish for trout in the Ausable during the past seven or eight years. He is another fisherman who ties his own flies. Acquaintance with the Marvin Miller family of the Miller Hardware persuaded him to move to Grayling.

Trade Show Committee Issues A Thank You

The 1963 Trade Show is over and the Kiwanis and Woman's Clubs think it was the best one to date. The weather man played a mean trick on us on the opening day by coming up with a freezing rain and cold weather which cut down on our crowd but Saturday's weather was fine and a large crowd was in attendance, the second day. The spaciousness of the new Road Commission building gave us a chance to display our banners and booths to a better advantage than ever before.

One does not realize the expense and hard work that goes into putting in a booth for the Trade Show. We the committee, are mighty proud to be a part of this and we are also proud of Grayling and its merchants. Don't ever sell Grayling short. We feel it's the best little town on the map and when it does something, it does it up big. This was evident by the type of merchandise displayed in the booths and by the wonderful door prizes given away.

We're pretty sure that the public appreciated the show by the way they turned out and the enthusiasm they had for it. It would be impossible to thank everyone personally for their part in making this show such a big success, but we do wish to thank all members of the Woman's Club, the Kiwanis Club, the Crawford Co. Road Commission, the Crawford Co. Board of Supervisors and Mr. Bruce Carlson for their splendid support.

We hope to have a complete list of all door prize winners for next week's edition of the Avalanche. Derek McEvers, chairman; Eric Post, Dr. Ralph Hoffman, Jorne Douglas, Mrs. Walter Truettner, Mrs. Lester Welch, Mrs. John Latusek and Mrs. Thomas Haugh.

Plan Two Evening Spring Music Recitals

Mrs. Arthur Feldhauser will present a spring recital by her music pupils next week on two evenings. The senior students will present piano, vocal and accordion selections on Tuesday evening, May 21st at 8 p. m., and the junior students on Wednesday evening at 7:30 p. m. Both groups will hold their recital in the Chapel Room at the Michelson Memorial church. Parents and friends are cordially invited to attend. There is no charge.

Mercy To Mark Hospital Week

The Annual Awards Dinner, honoring employees of Grayling Mercy Hospital who have given 10 or more years of service, will be held on Thursday, May 16, at 6:30 p. m. Harry Kelly, Justice of the Michigan Supreme Court, will address the group on "Mercy Hospital 10 Years Hence and Its Place in Northern Michigan's Growth."

On Tuesday, May 14, Mercy Hospital paid honor to the members of the Hospital Auxiliary. Tea was served from 2 to 4 p. m.

The Memorial Garden will be blessed on Wednesday, May 15, at 3:30 p. m. Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament and May Crowning will be part of the services.

Michigan's hospitals are desperately short of skilled personnel. It is from the high schools of today that Michigan's hospital must look for their trained workers of tomorrow. If we fail to attract young people into hospital careers during the next few years, many hospitals will be faced with the unpleasant prospect of curtailing their services. We need trained workers in every field—from scientifically trained technicians for x-ray departments and laboratories to specialized medical secretaries and librarians. Education in the various specialties is available in Michigan. Furthermore, upon successful completion of their training, students are assured that a job with an excellent future will be waiting for them.

FOR THE BIRDS

MIO—The tiny, half-ounce Kirtland's Warbler (inset) which winters in the Bahama Islands and nests only in the north central portion of the lower peninsula is causing a big stir in the northwoods. One of the world's rare birds, it faces the prospect of being added to the "vanishing" list.

Men shown above massing machines and manpower to save the Kirtland's warbler nesting range are (left to right) logging contractor Charles Wilhoite, assistant ranger Marion True of the U. S. Forest Service, and Packaging Corporation of America woods superintendent Ivan Owen. Under a long term contract aimed at improving the warblers' future, Packaging Corporation is harvesting pulpwood for their Filtrix City mill to set the stage for warbler nesting sites.

The mile-square 1962 harvest in the Huron National Forest will be part of 4,000 acres slated for warbler management. Controlled fires will be used by the Forest Service to induce jack pine seeding from seed trees left by the harvest. Jack pine regrowth seems to be the key in managing to sustain the Kirtland's warbler.

of 1914. At that time the strength of the Michigan National Guard was 3,600 officers and men. The current strength of the Michigan National Guard is approximately 12,000 officers and men.

Fifty-six communities sponsoring a total of 129 units. Largest organization is the 46th Infantry Division with its 89 component units totaling 8,700 officers and men. In addition to 24 non-divisional units with a strength of more than 7,800 officers and men, there are 16 Michigan Air National Guard units with 1,600 officers and airmen.

Camp Grayling, one of the finest state military reservations in the nation, is the historic training ground of the Michigan National Guard. Today, there are 127,640 acres within the boundaries of the reservation, including 26,231 acres still privately-owned. The reservation includes acreage in Crawford, Kalkaska, and Otsego counties.

Located about five miles southwest of Grayling, the main camp area surrounds the curving southern shore of Lake Margrethe. Most of the company streets extend a way from the front beaches and swimming areas of the cool northern lake.

Although Camp Grayling is primarily a tent camp, more than 385 buildings exist in the main part of the reservation. Included are permanent messhalls, bathhouses, warehouses, repair shops, storage sheds, hospital, commissary with modern refrigeration system, and administration headquarters. Excellent water and sewerage systems service the entire camp area.

All personnel are quartered in tents. Under the Camp Grayling expansion program, many units have concrete tent floors. The remainder use wooden tent floors during the training period. Automatic oil water heaters provide hot water for all bathhouses.

Units areas have space available for in-camp recreation, such as softball and volleyball.

Away from the main camp site in several directions are the training areas of the reservation. Located nearby are three 50-target known-distance ranges for training with carbine and rifle. Other ranges include a 50-caliber 1,000-range, 30-caliber 1,000-range, 45-caliber submachine gun range, 45-caliber pistol range, mortar range, transition ranges and assault firing courses, moving tank range, moving target range, and a stationary target range for armor.

Located northeast of Grayling on some 37,000 acres of land is the Federal Artillery Range. 105-millimeter and 155-millimeter weapons are fired. An Armored Training Center is situated near the south boundary of the artillery range.

Much of the Hanson State Military Reservation is of rolling, wooded terrain. Its sandy soil readily absorbs any rainfall. Main highways from the south to Camp Grayling are US-27 and I-73. These highways converge at the City of Grayling with M-72 and M-93. Entrance to the camp proper is from M-93 or via Beaver Creek Road from US-27.

Located just outside the City of Grayling is Grayling Army Airfield. It has one 7,000-foot runway and one 5,000-foot runway. Paving is of concrete and macadam. In addition to serving as a base of operations for Army Aviation units, the airfield can be used for any air support demonstrations or other types of air-ground training.

For further information on Camp Grayling plus some photos of encampments of many years ago, be sure to see the annual Michigan Week page to be published in next week's Avalanche by the Grayling-Sophomore English class under the direction of Mrs. Evelyn Klein.

Grayling High Library News

On Saturday, May 4, 1963, Mrs. Klein, the school librarian, took three student librarians: Pat Winslow, Chris Houle, and Pat McEvers to a regional meeting at Kalkaska. The two groups at the meeting were from Grand Traverse District and the Mackinac Straits District.

The welcome was given by Mr. Robert Hardy, Superintendent of the Kalkaska Schools. Greetings were extended by Mrs. C. Irene Hayner, President of the Michigan Association of School Librarians.

The adult librarians then went to another room to see the movie "The Fenton Story", which pertains to planning of a new library in Fenton, Michigan. The adults had a panel discussion on "Adapting the School Library to New Trends in Education." The group then had a business meeting.

Meanwhile the Student Librarians Association of Michigan group held a business meeting and elected officers for the coming year. Two sets of officers were elected, one set for each district. Patsy McEvers of Grayling was elected secretary of the Mackinac Straits area.

Following the elections the students had a panel discussion on "How we, as students, can help improve our school libraries." Each school discussed problems they had in their own libraries and many schools gave ideas to the group which had helped improve the library in their own school.

Each school was asked to bring a bulletin board display. After the panel the students had a discussion about the bulletin boards. The Grayling High School library received many compliments on its display which can be seen in the library now. The theme is: "Be Well Informed, Arm or Fortify Yourself By Reading The Daily Newspaper."

At 12:30 the adults and students were dismissed for lunch which was served in the school cafeteria. After lunch the students and adults met together and Mr. Al Barnes, the Michigan author of "Vinegar Pie", and a newspaper staff member of the Traverse City Record Eagle, was the guest speaker.

At a regular meeting on May 7, 1963, the librarians discussed the Saturday meeting and plans for a picnic or going out for dinner some evening before school closes.

Save Us From Another Bureau

In recent years it has been suggested, so far without results, that a Department of Consumers be established at the cabinet level. Its purpose would be to protect all of us helpless innocents from the rapacity of ruthless producers of just about everything.

We already have pure food and drug laws, a federal trade commission, antitrust laws, and countless laws, boards and commissions to protect consumers, if laws are enforced. About the last thing we need now is another multi-million dollar federal agency to slow down incentive and production.

Figures published by the Merchants and Manufacturers Association state that in 1960, about 7,000 new products were introduced in the food and drug field but only 1,000 survived.

This high fatality rate is inevitable. It is the result of obvious causes — the products aren't any good, or other and similar products are better, or consumers just don't take to them. And what it all points to is the heavy risk that is a part of innovation in a free society. The pharmaceutical industry is certainly a prime example of that. It devotes great resources in money, energy and human intelligence to research. All manner of new drugs are produced and tested. But only a very few prove successful.

The price of progress is opportunity, risk and effort. There is no other coin that so spurs inventive activity.

Duty, Obligation, Destiny

Now, once again, as in generations past, the nation's school graduating classes will perform their traditional roles, from the grades to the great universities.

The Valedictorians will say their eager, nervous words. The guest speakers will offer their counsel. Pomp and Circumstance will surround the ceremonies.

The young people will walk off into a world they did not make, but which, perhaps, they can help remake in a brighter image. It is a world of intense competition, profound danger, and vast opportunity.

This is true of the arts, the sciences, the social services, all the civilizing elements of which we now have some knowledge. But then, poised against this, are powers of darkness and destruction deeper and more subtle than the world has ever known before.

May this year's graduates of the schools and colleges, wherever in the world they may be, go hence with a sense of duty, obligation, and destiny.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

May 16, 1940

As a fitting tribute to the mother of the Danish—Evangelical church, the Junior Ladies Aid society of the church held reception at Danebod hall Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock. It was held in the auditorium, where a large table was arranged for the occasion. Centering the table was a low bowl of spring flowers and at each place was a basket of mints for a favor, and each mother received a red or white carnation. Individual molds of ice cream with the inscription "Greetings to Mother" were served with cake. Following refreshments a program suited to the occasion was given.

Grayling High broke even in their two games of last week. They defeated a strong team from Kalkaska by a score of 7 to 2. Pat Kolka pitched a very good game, allowing only 5 hits. Spencer pitched for Kasky, allowed 10 hits. It was a very fast game to watch. Several good fielding plays were made by Grayling. On Saturday the team went to Alpena to play. They were defeated, however, by a score of 11 to 2. Hanner pitched for Alpena, allowing but one hit, which was made by Clark. Anthony pitched for the locals, allowing 12 hits.

The weather this week has been very changeable, one day the sun shines and the thermometer rises and the next day it's raining and the mercury stood at 67 at 8 a.m. by noon had gone up to 74 degrees, the coldest and warmest day of this week. Since Tuesday it has been raining off and on during the day. This morning the thermometer registered 40 degrees and skies are clouded.

George "Birdie" Tebbetts, colorful Detroit Tiger catcher, announced he would retire as publicity director for Grayling's Winter Sports Inc., Monday. Acting as publicity director for the Grayling winter sports plant for the past two years, the Graylingites had claimed "Birdie" as one of their own and all were proud of his success as a big league ball player. This year's winter carnival was one of the most successful in the history of the Grayling layout and was due to Tebbetts' splendid work. Up until his announcement it had been expected at Grayling that Tebbetts would return to the Grayling post next winter. (From the Bay City Times.)

NOTE: Tebbetts' resignation has not been received by any of the officials of Grayling Winter Sports, Inc., and the above article was news to them. According to one of the local officials it sounds incredulous for Tebbetts has already signed a contract to work for Grayling next winter.

Investigate the prospects of establishing a steam laundry in Grayling. Arrangements are being made to form a stock company. An option has been secured on the Danish gymnasium which will make an ideal laundry building. There isn't a laundry within 75 miles of Grayling and the success of a laundry here is a foregone conclusion.

The young ladies gathered at the home of Miss Martha Ellsworth to spend the evening and presented their schoolmate and friend, Miss Mildred, with a friendship pin.

Preparations for the reception of the newly organized Wisconsin-Michigan division, comprising the National Guards of both states, at the Hanson Military reservation at Grayling have been begun by the state authorities. No orders to prepare have been received, but word from Major General T. H. Barry, commanding the central department at Chicago, indicates that fixing the Grayling grounds for the housing of an entire division of 20,000 would be timely.

Tuesday afternoon of this week occurred the marriage of Miss Ida M. Klein to Mr. Charles Anthony, Jr., and Miss Barbara Klein to Mr. James Anthony. The brides are sisters, and the grooms are brothers. The brides were dressed in embroidered white voile. Each of the couples acted as bridesmaid and best man for the other couple. The young people are fond of outdoor life and will take their honeymoon on a camping trip. This was planned by the grooms and the exact location of their "wedding" camp is unknown to the brides.

A very pretty wedding occurred Tuesday afternoon—May 14—at the North-Baptist church at Flint, when Miss Elsie A. Mortenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Mortenson of this city, became the bride of Mr. Frank W. Barker of Flint. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Lillian Mortenson. LaVerne Barker, brother of the groom, acted as best man. After a short wedding trip they will reside in Flint.

IF YOU KNEW WHAT

MINY LUND KNOWS ABOUT FORD DURABILITY... YOU'D BE OUT ENJOYING A '63 FORD

Ask Tiny Lund about Ford durability: He'll tell you how it helped him win America's toughest stock-car competition, the Daytona 500. Lund placed first in a Ford, with four other Fords behind him for an unprecedented sweep of the first five races. Only the Fords were tough enough to stand the pace.

Greater durability is the reason Ford is able to offer a total warranty. Only a true total-performance car could offer complete warranty as this—with no strings attached:

Ford Motor Company warrants to its dealers, and its dealers, in turn, warrant to owners as follows: That for 24 months or 24,000 miles, whichever comes first, free replacement, including related labor, will be made by dealers of any part which is defective in workmanship or materials. Tires are not covered by the warranty; appropriate adjustments will be made by the tire companies. Owners will remain responsible for normal maintenance services, routine replacement of parts, such as filters, spark plugs, ignition points, wiper blades, brake or clutch linings, and normal deterioration of soft trim and appearance items.

You can't put a long-term warranty like ours on a short-term car. The '63 Fords have a better warranty because they're built better than any Fords in history. You see evidence of this extra toughness in Ford's outstanding competitive wins this year.

'63 Fords won the grueling Daytona, Riverside, and Atlanta 500's, and the demanding Pure Oil Performance Trials. Only cars with total performance could roll up so many big wins.

Before you buy any new car, test-drive the solid, silent Super Torque Ford. If you haven't driven one lately, you can't really know what a new Ford is like. Remember: If it's built by Ford, it's built for performance... total performance.

90 days or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first for the 427 C.I.D. 4V or 6V and 289 C.I.D. 4V engines and related power-train components.

Plans Progress For New Grade School

Richard E. Wiggins, architect, and Claus Beukema, educational consultant, of the Davernman Company, met with the Grayling school staff Tuesday afternoon, April 30 to review the preliminary drawings of the new grade school.

In the evening they met with members of the school board. It was recommended that a soundmaster folding partition between the 4th and 5th grade classrooms at the south end of the building be included in the plan, also a sound system with speakers and microphone outlets in the multi-purpose room. Other specifications decided upon were pneumatic controls on all thermostats, liquid tile on the cloak room walls also in the multi-purpose room where necessary.

hollow metal door frames throughout, TV conduit for each classroom area and automatic flush urinals.

The architects and engineers were to forward to the Department of Public Instruction and the State Fire Marshal the necessary preliminary forms for their approval.

While here the architects also met with Harold Cliff, City Manager, to discuss the relocation of a storm sewer, finished floor elevation, the availability of water and sewer service and the use of the public road platted on the north side of the school site.

Another meeting was set for May 27 at which time final approval is to be given on the rehabilitation for the existing school building.

What Does Business Look For When Selecting A New Location

WHAT INDUSTRY SEEKS
Officials in many Michigan communities are looking for the answer to an important question and planning specialists at Michigan State University think they have it.

The question, foremost in the minds of city planners hoping to draw new business to their economy, is this: What does the business executive look for when locating a new plant?

Site, available labor and market proximity are obviously part of the answer. MSU experts say there is much more to be considered, however. Many communities can provide these features so the competition is greatly cancelled out in these categories.

"Executives are placing more emphasis on recreation facilities, schools, shopping areas and other factors that contribute to the 'good life,'" says Louis Twardzik, parks and recreation specialist for MSU's Cooperative Extension Service. The theory is that the executive not only wants a nice place to live and raise his family. He also feels that good living conditions for his employees will make for higher productivity.

This executive wants the "fringe benefits" of a well planned community, according to Twardzik.

The MSU specialist contends that subsidies for new industry will not necessarily provide the drawing power the community intends. Studies suggest that subsidies tend to attract unstable businesses, while the well-established industries, the kind all communities really want, are more likely to locate with an eye on these "fringe benefits."

Twardzik stresses the value of well-developed and managed open spaces: playgrounds, sports areas, community centers, parks, and swimming facilities.

"In all too many cases, local industrial efforts completely miss the idea that the town should be a pleasant place in which to live," he said.

In advising local planners, Twardzik's primary recommendation is that they view their community by asking themselves the question, "Is this the kind of town where strangers would want to invest and live?"

Local Medical Care Bill, $422,000

(Special to the Avalanche)

NEW YORK — How much do residents of Crawford County spend a year for medical, dental and hospital care? What is their annual health bill, taking into account the amount they spend for health insurance?

According to recent studies, made by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and by the University of Michigan, the cost is going up rapidly in the local area and in most other sections of the country.

Because of the higher prices, especially for hospital care, the millions of Americans who see doctors, buy drugs or go to the hospital each month are finding that their health dollar is buying only two-thirds as much as it did 10 years ago.

In Crawford County, on the basis of the latest figures, the out-of-pocket expenditures for medical care amount to approximately $88 per person per year, or 6.2 percent of net income.

Some 68 percent of this represents direct payments and the remainder the cost of health insurance.

In line with the rising prices that have been noted nationally, the current expenditures, locally compare with $62 per capita 10 years ago.

These sums apply merely to private expenditures for health care. They do not include government outlays or medical care provided through private charity.

The Social Security Administration finds that all categories of medical care are becoming more expensive. In the period of one year, hospital care in the United States went up 9.8 percent, nursing-home care, 8.9 percent, payments to physicians, 6.5 percent, and eyeglasses, hearing aids and other appliances, 2.3 percent.

The net cost of health insurance, meaning the difference between the amount paid for insurance and the benefits paid by the carriers, increased 15.7 percent.

The American public, according to the latest Government figures, is spending $21.1 billion a year for medical care. About 28 percent of that bill is met through insurance benefits.

In Crawford County, the overall cost of medical care in the one-year period is estimated at $422,000.

Tours Of Timber Stands In Northern Michigan

Guided field tours will be held in six northern lower peninsula state and national forests this month by the Conservation Department to single out timber supplies needed for utility poles and farm construction.

If the volume of pole-sized timber growing on these lands meets current demands and quality standards, Michigan could be on its way toward working into a $15 million-a-year industry. This figure represents the estimated value of utility and round poles being brought into the state each year.

Timber products engineers from the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the Bell Telephone Laboratories will be on hand for next week's tour, along with representatives of the Consumers Power, Detroit Edison, and Michigan Bell Telephone companies.

The tour, scheduled for May 13-15, will take them through Houghton Lake, AuSable, Pigeon River, Ogemaw and Thunder Bay River state forests and Huron national forest.

In the past few months we have been striving, in connection with the Federation of Humane Societies of the State of Michigan, to promote a more efficient, more equitable, and more humane way of handling the dog situation in Crawford County.

We have drawn up a plan to be submitted to the Crawford County Board of Supervisors, which, among other things, lists a proposal for the construction of a new dog pound and a set of rules under which the dog warden must perform his duties.

In order to qualify for the protection which the law gives your dog, it must be licensed. We would like to take this opportunity therefore, to urge that every dog owner who has not already purchased a license for his dog, do so now.

We will continue to work in the future to see that you receive the protection for your dog to which you are entitled, and we ask only that you make yourself eligible for this protection by the purchase of a dog license.
